Dear Qatar Leadership Conference Participants,

It is our great pleasure to welcome you to the first annual Qatar MUN and Film Leadership Conference.

The 2012 conference has three main goals. Our first goal is to highlight the importance of collaboration and mutual support. This conference was organized by three separate institutions: THIMUN Qatar, Northwestern University and Georgetown University. The student executive committee team has school representatives from all over Qatar. Finally, the presenters at the conference come from many different organizations globally and locally. By working together to support each other, we can provide many more opportunities than working in isolation. The goal of this conference is to serve as a meeting place each year to communicate about programs and provide an opportunity to learn and listen to each other.

Another key goal of this conference is to provide an opportunity to develop leadership. We hope this conference provides you with the chance to learn new leadership skills, to meet leaders from around the world and from Qatar and to discover hidden talents within yourself or your program. The conference organizers also believe that student leadership is not a bonus or after thought of extra-curricular activities, but should be at the core of the program. This is one of the reasons that during the conference sessions, students and teachers attend and present seminars together.

Another reason we believe this conference is significant is because true leaders spur change within their communities. We hope this weekend provides you with the opportunity to create and implement plans to improve your school’s programs, to challenge you to be active participants in making positive changes through community and service programs, and finally to encourage you to work with others to maximize resources. It is true that everyone can make a difference and we hope this conference encourages you to continue taking those steps towards making a difference.

Finally, the first time you start any new project there is a lot to learn. Our success is measured on how well this conference meets the needs of your programs and leadership development. Your feedback is vitally important to us so we can better meet the purpose of this conference. If you would like to get more involved in planning of the 2013 conference or have suggestions on how to make the conference better, please feel free to contact any member of the student leadership committee team at any time.

We wish you a successful conference and 2012-13 school year.

Tariq Atiyah
Secretary General
Qatar Leadership Conference

2013

FILM AND MEDIA STUDIES – Use of films to enhance MUN clubs and conferences
Thursday 20th September – Session 2: 5.25-6.15
Cinema

A MUN club or MUN conference must have a theme. This theme can afterwards be developed through different issues that are debated between club members or in the various forums of a conference. A film can also be a way to emphasize the theme and understand in a better way the issues. How to choose a theme for a club or a conference? How to choose a film and organize a cinema event? What are the impacts of the film on the MUN club or conference?

ORGANIZATION – Organization of an Advisory Panel in MUN Conferences
Friday 21st September – Session 5: 12.40-1.30
Conference room C

Almost all MUN conferences are based on the same exact model – an exact replica of the United Nations body. THIMUN has created a new forum, the Advisory Panel on the Question… known as APQ.
